Bundle

A decorative illustration featuring two cartoon parrots, one on each side of a winding black dashed line that forms the outline of the page. The parrots are green with yellow heads and beaks, and they have large, expressive eyes. They are perched on what appears to be a branch or a small tree. The background behind the title text is a dark gray color.

CAUSE and EFFECT BICYCLE WHEELS

I have the illustrations in my book. I would like you to draw those go to the top of the page. You can use some of the words from the story. I would like you to draw the bicycle body and the wheels. Then draw the cause and effect arrows pointing from the words to the wheels. If you have some simple "how to" drawings, draw them next to the wheels. Now draw the people on the ground.

How did the story end?:

Kamishi Man

Directions: For the wheels themselves you will want to do this: Get a piece of paper and draw as many cause and effect circles as you want. Then just staple them to the back of the wheel cover, and it will fit perfectly. The first need to stretch it out, then below write out how it helps them understand it.
